

Harris Mill and Miller's Employees

Built in 1834, Derwent Mills was built to accommodate the growing linen business of the Harris family, closing in 1934. It later became a Miller's shoe factory, before being converted into flats.

If you would like to see higher resolution versions of these images, please get in touch with us at heritage@thekirkgate.com.

You can read more on the mill here:

Harris Mill, Cockermouth - A Tale of Rags to Riches and Back?

Derwent Mills with workers on Bridge

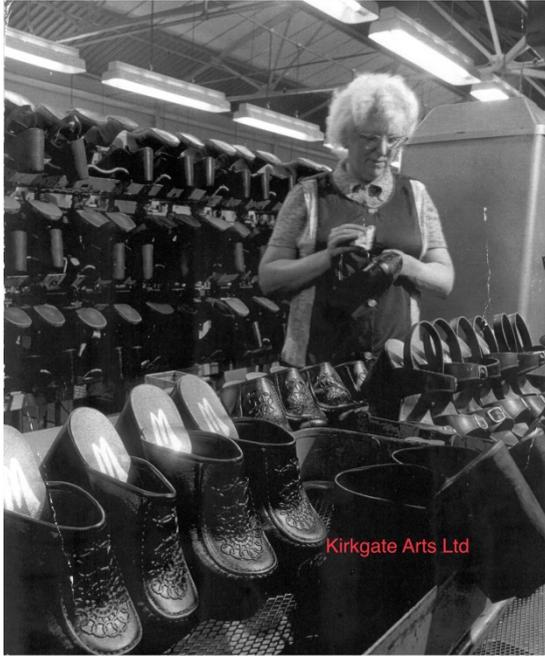

Harris Mill Staff

Miller's Shoe Factory

Kirkgate Arts Ltd

Kirkgate Arts Ltd

Kirkgate Arts Ltd

Kirkgate Arts Ltd